This event will be a positive way to educate the public about the beauty and importance of breastfeeding. The majority of mothers consider "support" to be an important part of their breastfeeding success. In honor of all breastfeeding mothers, babies and their supporters please help spread the word, breastfeeding saves lives.

Log on to www.BookCrossing.com and enter my BCID number (shown below) and you will discover where I have been and how I have done my job to increase awareness and support breastfeeding education. Then, give another baby the chance to breastfeed because they deserve it. -- Read & Release
